Source A

Herr Adolf Hitler, the German Chancellor, has saved his country. Swiftly and with severity, he has delivered Germany from men who had become a danger to the unity of the German people and to peace in the country. With lightning speed he has caused them to be removed from high office, to be arrested, and put to death. Hitler's love of Germany has triumphed over private friendships.

[An extract from the Daily Mail newspaper,

QUESTION 3

Study the interpretations below and then answer the question which follows.

Interpretation 1

The severe terms of the treaty laid the psychological and economic groundwork for the rise of the Nazi Party. The Nazis would later capitalize on German resentment of the burdens imposed by the Allied powers after the First World War. The Treaty of Versailles was the biggest challenge that was faced by the Weimar Republic in its early years.

[An extract from an article on the Treaty of Versailles, published on the website khanacademy.org. Khan Academy is a non-profit general educational resource.]

Interpretation 2

The Weimar Republic did not live up to its democratic potential. The Parliament was highly fragmented by the system of proportional representation, which allowed 10 to 15 parties to be elected to the same parliament. As a result the system favoured the establishment of weak minority or fragile majority governments. This was the main challenge the Republic faced.

[An extract from an article entitled Germany's First Democratic Constitution, its Collapse and Lessons for Today, published on the website of a German political organization that seeks to provide political education.]

Do the interpretations support the view that the Treaty of Versailles was the main challenge faced by the Weimar Republic in its early years? [10]

[In your answer you should refer to how and why the interpretations may differ. Use your own knowledge and understanding of the wider historical debate over this issue to reach a well-supported judgement.]

Women have been deprived of all rights except that of childbirth and hard labour. They are not permitted to participate in political life – in fact Hitler's plans eventually include the deprivation of the vote; they are refused opportunities of education and self-expression; careers and professions are closed to them.

[Martha Dodd, writing in her book My Years in Germany, published in 1939. Dodd was the daughter of the American Ambassador to Germany and lived in Berlin from 1933–1937.]
