- 7. Rhian has been suffering with a mental health problem and has been advised to consider using a therapy from the cognitive approach. Before she starts the therapy, she expresses concerns to her doctor that it may not work and wants to know if there are any ethical considerations she should be aware of.

With reference to Rhian’s concerns, evaluate the therapy from the cognitive approach you have studied (either cognitive behavioural therapy OR rational emotive behaviour therapy). [10]
