Mark Scheme for June 2016

OCR (Oxford Cambridge and RSA) is a leading UK awarding body, providing a wide range of qualifications to meet the needs of candidates of all ages and abilities. OCR qualifications include AS/A Levels, Diplomas, GCSEs, Cambridge Nationals, Cambridge Technicals, Functional Skills, Key Skills, Entry Level qualifications, NVQs and vocational qualifications in areas such as IT, business, languages, teaching/training, administration and secretarial skills.

It is also responsible for developing new specifications to meet national requirements and the needs of students and teachers. OCR is a not-for-profit organisation; any surplus made is invested back into the establishment to help towards the development of qualifications and support, which keep pace with the changing needs of today's society.

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and students, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which marks were awarded by examiners. It does not indicate the details of the discussions which took place at an examiners' meeting before marking commenced.

All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the published question papers and the report on the examination.

OCR will not enter into any discussion or correspondence in connection with this mark scheme.

√ ?	Sort of

2. Subject-specific marking instructions

Before you commence marking each question you must ensure that you are familiar with the following: the requirements of the specification these instructions the exam questions (found in the exam paper which will have been emailed to you along with this document) levels of assessment criteria *1 (found in the 'Levels of Assessment' grid at the back of this document) question specific indicative content given in the 'Answer' column*2 question specific guidance given in 'Guidance' column*3 the 'practice' scripts*4 provided in Scoris and accompanying commentaries

- *1 The levels of assessment criteria (found in the 'Levels of Assessment' grid) reflect the expectation of achievement for each Assessment Objective at every level.
- *2 The indicative content in the 'Answer' column provides details of points that candidates may be likely to make. It is not exhaustive or prescriptive and points not included in the indicative content, but which are valid within the context of the question, are to be credited. Similarly, it is possible for candidates to achieve top level marks without citing all the points suggested in the scheme.
- *3 Included in the 'Guidance' column are the number of marks available for each assessment objective contained within the question. It also includes 'characteristics' which a response in a particular level is likely to demonstrate. For example, "a level 4 response is likely to include accurate reference to all 5 stages of x with supporting detail and an accurate link to the source". In some instances an answer may not display all of the 'characteristics' detailed for a level but may still achieve the level nonetheless.
- *4 The 'practice' scripts are live scripts which have been chosen by the Principal Examiner (and senior examining team). These scripts will represent most types of responses which you will encounter. The marks awarded to them and accompanying commentary (which you can see by changing the view to 'definitive marks') will demonstrate how the levels of assessment criteria and marking guidance should be applied.

As already stated, neither the indicative content, 'characteristics' or practice scripts are prescriptive and/or exhaustive. It is imperative that you remember at all times that a response which:

- differs from examples within the practice scripts; or,
- includes valid points not listed within the indicative content; or,
- does not demonstrate the 'characteristics' for a level

may still achieve the same level and mark as a response which does all or some of this. Where you consider this to be the case you should discuss the candidate's response with your supervisor to ensure consistent application of the mark scheme.

Awarding Assessment Objectives 1 and 2

To award the level for the AO1 or AO2 (some questions may contain both AO1 and AO2 marks) use the levels of assessment criteria and the guidance contained within the mark scheme to establish which level the response achieves. As per point 10 of the above marking instructions, when determining which level to award start at the highest level and work down until you reach the level that matches the answer.

Once you have established the correct level to award to the response you need to determine the mark within the level. The marks available for each level differ between questions. Details of how many marks are available per level are provided in the Guidance column. Where there is more than one mark available within a level you will need to assess where the response 'sits' within that level. Guidance on how to award marks within a level is provided in point 10 of the above marking instructions, with the key point being that you start at the middle of each level and work outwards until you reach the mark that the response achieves.

Answers, which contain no relevant material at all, should receive no marks.

* Remember: when awarding the level you work from top downwards, when awarding the mark you work from the middle outwards.

Awarding Assessment Objective 3

AO3 marks are awarded based on the marks achieved for either AO1, AO2 or in some cases, the total of AO1 and AO2. You must refer to each question's mark scheme for details of how to calculate the AO3 mark.

Rubric

What to do for the questions the candidate has not answered?

The rubric for G155 instructs candidates to answer three questions; one from Section A, one from Section B and one from Section C. For the questions the candidate has not answered you should record NR (no response) in the mark column on the right-hand side of the screen. Do not record a 0.

What to do for the candidate who has not complied with the rubric either by answering more than three questions or by answering more or less Section A, B or C questions than is permitted?

This is a very rare occurrence.

Mark all questions the candidate has answered. Scoris will work out what the overall highest mark the candidate can achieve whilst conforming to the rubric. It will not 'violate' the rubric

Blank pages and missed answers

Sometimes candidates will skip a few pages in their answer booklet and then continue their answer. To be sure you have not missed any candidate response when you come to mark the last question in the script you must check every page of the script and annotate any blank pages with a BP annotation.

This will demonstrate that every page of a script has been checked.

	 In the case of Sandra grabbing Talya's hair: Grabbing hold of the hair is sufficient for battery as an application of unlawful force Since the grabbing was from behind it is unlikely that Talya saw Sandra coming so it would be difficult to prove an assault Actions appear to be to applying unlawful force intentionally Conclude actions constitute battery 		Responses will be unlikely to achieve the following levels without: Level 5 – identification of all relevant points of law in issue, applying points of law accurately and pertinently to a given factual situation and reaching a cogent, logical and well informed conclusion. Responses are unlikely to reach level 5 without a discussion of all aspects of the scenario
	 In the case of Tayla spraining her wrist: Talya's sprained wrist is sufficient for section 47 as the battery in grabbing Talya's hair has occasioned actual bodily harm Sandra's actions are at least subjectively reckless It is irrelevant whether Sandra foresees the level of harm actually caused Conclude that Sandra's actions constitute ABH 		Level 4 – identification of the main points of law in issue, applying points of law clearly to a given factual situation, and reaching a sensible and informed conclusion Level 3 – identification of the main points of law in issue, applying points of law mechanically to a given factual situation, and reaching a conclusion
	 In the case of Sandra shouting at Talya: The shouting could make Talya apprehend immediate and unlawful personal violence by the use of words suggesting a charge of assault Sandra's words are sufficient for an assault Sandra is at least subjectively reckless The conditional nature of Sandra's threat may negate the assault 		Level 2 – identification of some of the points of law in issue and applying points of law to a given factual situation but without a clear focus or conclusion Level 1 – identification of at least one of the points of law in issue but with limited ability to apply points of law or to use an uncritical and/or unselective approach

Question	Answer	Marks	Guidance
Question	 Alexi factually and legally causes Barbara's death Alexi is potentially liable for murder In the case of diminished responsibility: The fact that Alexi has been prescribed medication is likely to be enough to suggest an abnormality of mental functioning, especially since medication is a result of severe depression The depression would be sufficient as a recognised medical condition It is likely that Alexi is unable to form a rational judgement or to exercise self-control from the point Barbara arrives unannounced again Alexi's depression is a likely explanation for him killing Barbara Alexi is likely to be able to raise the defence of diminished responsibility leading to a conviction of voluntary manslaughter In the case of loss of self-control: It is clear that Alexi has lost self-control It does not matter that the loss of control is cumulative in nature Qualifying trigger could be any or a combination of Barbara's words and actions Due to the objective nature of the test for extremely grave and justifiable sense of being seriously wrong it is unlikely that the defence of loss of control will be successfully raised 	Marks	Level 5 – identification of all relevant points of law in issue, applying points of law accurately and pertinently to a given factual situation and reaching a cogent, logical and well informed conclusion. Responses are unlikely to reach level 5 without a discussion of all aspects of the scenario Level 4 – identification of the main points of law in issue, applying points of law clearly to a given factual situation, and reaching a sensible and informed conclusion Level 3 – identification of the main points of law in issue, applying points of law mechanically to a given factual situation, and reaching a conclusion Level 2 – identification of some of the points of law in issue and applying points of law to a given factual situation but without a clear focus or conclusion Level 1 – identification of at least one of the points of law in issue but with limited ability to apply points of law or to use an uncritical and/or unselective approach

Question	Answer	Marks	Guidance
	 Using the reasonable person test it unrealistic for Alexi to behave as he does On this basis the defence will fail Credit any other relevant comment Reach any sensible conclusion

Question	Answer	Marks	Guidance
	Since Cyril knows that fire and smoke would become life-threatening to Klaus he has a consequent duty to take reasonable steps to save Klaus' life		reaching a cogent, logical and well informed conclusion. Responses are unlikely to reach level 5 without a discussion of all aspects of the scenario
	 In the case of Cyril and a special relationship duty Cyril and Klaus are brothers and therefore, depending on the circumstances, the court may see this as constituting a special relationship He breaches his duty by abandoning Klaus There is a risk of death and having regard to this and the fact that Cyril knows Klaus is in the house, the breach is likely to be deemed gross 		Level 4 – identification of the main points of law in issue, applying points of law clearly to a given factual situation, and reaching a sensible and informed conclusion Level 3 – identification of the main points of law in issue, applying points of law mechanically to a given factual situation, and reaching a conclusion
	 In the case of George: George owes a duty of care through official position He breaches this by failing to give the right address This may be seen as gross depending on the circumstances He would be charged with a misconduct in a public office offence 		Level 2 – identification of some of the points of law in issue and applying points of law to a given factual situation but without a clear focus or conclusion Level 1 – identification of at least one of the points of law in issue but with limited ability to apply points of law or to use an uncritical and/or unselective approach
	In the case of Doctor Malik:
	 Due to his job Doctor Malik has a contractual obligation to treat Klaus; Thus he has a duty to care which is breached by falling below the standard reasonably expected of him; This breach exposes Klaus to a risk of death as

Question	Answer	Marks	Guidance
	 Doctor Malik believes, incorrectly, that Klaus is in a PVS; The chain of causation would appear to be intact as, but for Doctor Malik, Klaus may well have survived and the misdiagnosis would appear to be the 'operative and substantial' cause of death; However, courts are unwilling to find doctors responsible if their failure is simply a 'mistake' unless it falls far below the professional standard reasonably expected; It seems likely that Doctor Malik would be liable as a jury would see his actions as so bad that they were criminal Credit any other relevant comment Reach any sensible conclusions
