PEARSON

New Testament

There are, in the main, six independent lines of critical approach to the Resurrection of Jesus. Four of them assume the vacancy of the tomb as an historic fact, while the others take the extremer view that the story is either entirely apocryphal or that the tomb was not investigated under the conditions described in the Gospels. Very briefly these hypotheses may be summarised as follows:

- (1) That Joseph of Arimathea secretly removed the body to a more suitable resting-place.
- (2) That the body was removed by order of the Roman Power.
- (3) That the body was removed by the Jewish authorities to prevent the possible veneration of the tomb.
- (4) That life was not really extinct, and that Jesus recovered in the cool of the grave.
- (5) That the women mistook the grave in the uncertain light.
- (6) That the grave was not visited at all and that the story about the women was a later accretion.

This is a very wide field of presuppositions and, so far as I know, includes every serious alternative to the Gospel thesis which has been put forward.
