General Marking Guidance

- All candidates must receive the same treatment. Examiners must mark the first candidate in exactly the same way as they mark the last.
- Mark schemes should be applied positively. Candidates must be rewarded for what they have shown they can do rather than penalised for omissions.
- Examiners should mark according to the mark scheme not according to their perception of where the grade boundaries may lie.
- There is no ceiling on achievement. All marks on the mark scheme should be used appropriately.
- All the marks on the mark scheme are designed to be awarded. Examiners should always award full marks if deserved, i.e. if the answer matches the mark scheme. Examiners should also be prepared to award zero marks if the candidate's response is not worthy of credit according to the mark scheme.
- Where some judgement is required, mark schemes will provide the principles by which marks will be awarded and exemplification may be limited.
- When examiners are in doubt regarding the application of the mark scheme to a candidate's response, the team leader must be consulted.
- Crossed out work should be marked UNLESS the candidate has replaced it with an alternative response.
- Quality of written communication will be assessed in Section B, Question 12. The mark scheme for this question will indicate which strands of Quality of Written Communication are being assessed. The strands are as follows:
  - i) ensure that text is legible and that spelling, punctuation and grammar are accurate so that meaning is clear;
  - ii) select and use a form and style of writing appropriate to purpose and to complex subject matter;
  - iii) organise information clearly and coherently, using specialist vocabulary where appropriate.

1(a)	C (greater efficiency)	1
1(b)	Explain why this answer is correct: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Definition of lean management e.g. means using fewer resources/minimising waste OR definition of efficiency e.g. is a reduction in average costs (1 mark)</li> <li>• Dell's lean management system may include, e.g. JIT production/Kaizen /TQM to build computers (1 mark)</li> <li>• Which may have arisen because 'build to order system' uses resources for specific projects/orders (1 mark)</li> </ul> Up to two of the marks above can be achieved alternatively by explaining distracters, e.g. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• A is wrong because stock levels using JIT will be minimised at Dell rather than increased as they build the computers to order (1 mark)</li> <li>• B is wrong because lean management is likely shorten product lead times as resources are concentrated specifically on one area (1 mark)</li> <li>• D is wrong because capacity may not be affected given this also relates to factory space and/or use of machinery/labour. Question Number	Answer
10	Assess whether Tesco should focus its recruitment on people with skills or people with a positive attitude.
Level	Mark	Descriptor	Possible Content
1	1-2	Available for knowledge and understanding, such as identifying what is meant by recruiting for positive attitude or recruiting for skills.	e.g. recruiting for skills, such as numeracy, literacy skills, creativity  e.g. positive attitude will mean enthusiasm, helpful
2	3-4	Available for contextualising the response by referring to the way that Tesco recruit on the basis of skill and/or attitude	e.g. staff at Tesco who work on the tills may need numeracy skills  e.g. staff at Tesco need to interact with customers around the store
3	5-6	Available for considering the impact of having staff with the right skills OR a positive attitude.  NB Not in context – cap at 5 marks	e.g. some posts will require a degree of skill such as information technology which should support on-line sales
4	7-8	Available for providing balance between the importance of the right skills AND a positive attitude.  One side in context – 7 marks  Both sides in context – 8 marks	e.g. however, customers' who readily receive friendly/helpful customer service may make recommendations to others to use the store which will improve sales  e.g. a positive attitude towards customers at the till/in store cannot be taught as readily as an ICT skill through training

Question Number	Answer
11	Evaluate whether Tesco should use just in time (JIT) management for its smaller stores, such as Tesco Express.
Level	Mark	Descriptor	Possible Content
1	1-2	Available for knowledge such as identifying what is meant by JIT management of stock	e.g. JIT is getting stock in just before it is needed e.g. there is no buffer stock
2	3-4	Available for contextualising the response by referring to Tesco's smaller stores	e.g. Tesco sell many perishable groceries/foods. e.g. local/convenience stores don't have much storage space for food.
3	5-6	Available for considering the impact on Tesco of having an effective system  NB A mark of 5 can be awarded when analysis is not in context	e.g. frequent deliveries should keep food fresh and therefore minimise wastage  e.g. small stores have reduced storage space so JIT enables Tesco to provide a wider range of foods/groceries
4	7-8	Available for providing balance by showing that there are disadvantages for using JIT  NB Award a mark of 8 if both arguments are in context	e.g. JIT stock control is expensive to run due to more frequent deliveries of food  e.g. JIT requires reliable suppliers of groceries if it is to work effectively and satisfy customers

*12 (a)	Assess how important each of the following is to Tesco's continuing success.  (a) Cash.

3	4	Analysis must be present, i.e. the candidate must explain the importance of cash to Tesco.  NB- does not need to be in context  QWC: To achieve a mark of 4 the candidate will use business terminology well/style of writing is appropriate to the question/ reasonable to good spg	e.g. cash is the lifeblood of any business and is more important in the short run to pay for stock of groceries/electronics/clothing or for the wages of cashiers to enable the business to operate/remain solvent.

4	5 -7	Low Level 4: 5-6 marks Evaluation must be present to argue the case for and against the importance of cash to Tesco NB if only one side is in context, limit to 5 marks High Level 4: 7 marks A convincing and balanced answer throughout making good use of concepts and terminology and referring to short-run and long-run Assessment for QWC: The candidate will use business terminology precisely and effectively/organises their answer to provide a coherent and fluent response/ good to excellent spelling, punctuation and grammar.	e.g. cash may not be important for Tesco because they can obtain shorter term finance when needed through other methods such as bank loans e.g. day-to-day cash may not be so important to Tesco to finance its purchase of 200 stores because they actually have large cash reserves e.g. cash may not be as important to Tesco as other factors, such as maintaining a brand image or innovation of stores. e.g. in a poor economic climate Tesco is still cash rich and able to have funds for spending, even when consumers are monitoring their own spending.
