A WJEC pink 16-page answer booklet.

INSTRUCTIONS TO CANDIDATES

Answer one question in Section A and one question in Section B. Write your answers in the separate answer booklet provided.

INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES

Section A carries 72 marks (part (a) 24 marks and part (b) or (c) 48 marks) and Section B carries 48 marks.

The number of marks is given in brackets at the end of each question or part-question.

You are advised to spend approximately one hour and 15 minutes on Section A (30 minutes on (a) and 45 minutes on (b) or (c)). You are advised to spend 45 minutes on Section B.

You are reminded that assessment will take into account the quality of written communication used in your answers.

Section A: Shakespeare

Answer one question in this section.

Each question is in two parts. You must answer part (a), then either part (b) or part (c) on the set play which you have studied.

In both part (a) and part (b) or (c), you are required to:

- · apply concepts and methods from integrated linguistic and literary study
- · analyse how meanings are shaped and in part (b) or (c) you are also required to:

• demonstrate understanding of the significance and influence of the contexts in which texts are produced and received.

Antony and Cleopatra

1. (a) By focusing closely on the linguistic and literary techniques used, explore how Shakespeare presents Antony and Cleopatra and their relationship in this extract from Act 1, Scene 3. [24]

ANTONY

Hear me, Queen:
The strong necessity of time commands
Our services awhile; but my full heart
Remains in use with you. Our Italy
Shines o'er with civil swords: Sextus Pompeius

Makes his approaches to the port of Rome;

Equality of two domestic powers

Breed scrupulous faction; the hated, grown to strength, Are newly grown to love. The condemn'd Pompey.

Rich in his father's honour, creeps apace Into the hearts of such as have not thrived

Upon the present state, whose numbers threaten; And quietness, grown sick of rest, would purge By any desperate change. My more particular, And that which most with you should safe my going,

Is Fulvia's death.

CLEOPATRA Though age from folly could not give me freedom,

It does from childishness. Can Fulvia die?

ANTONY She's dead, my queen.

Look here, and at thy sovereign leisure read The garboils she awak'd. At the last, best.

See when and where she died.

CLEOPATRA O most false love!

Where be the sacred vials thou shouldst fill With sorrowful water? Now I see, I see, In Fulvia's death, how mine receiv'd shall be.

ANTONY Quarrel no more, but be prepar'd to know

The purposes I bear; which are, or cease, As you shall give th' advice. By the fire That quickens Nilus' slime, I go from hence Thy soldier, servant, making peace or war

As thou affects.

CLEOPATRA Cut my lace, Charmian, come!

But let it be; I am quickly ill and well -

So Antony loves.

ANTONY My precious queen, forbear,

And give true evidence to his love, which stands

An honourable trial.

CLEOPATRA So Fulvia told me.

I prithee turn aside and weep for her; Then bid adieu to me, and say the tears Belong to Egypt. Good now, play one scene Of excellent dissembling, and let it look Like perfect honour.

ANTONY You'll heat my blood; no more.

CLEOPATRA You can do better yet; but this is meetly.

ANTONY Now, by my sword –

CLEOPATRA And target. Still he mends;

But this is not the best. Look, prithee, Charmian,

How this Herculean Roman does become

The carriage of his chafe.

ANTONY I'll leave you, lady.

CLEOPATRA Courteous lord, one word.

Sir, you and I must part – but that's not it. Sir, you and I have lov'd – but there's not it. That you know well. Something it is I would –

O my oblivion is a very Antony,

And I am all forgotten!

ANTONY But that your royalty

Holds idleness your subject, I should take you

For idleness itself.

CLEOPATRA 'Tis sweating labour

To bear such idleness so near the heart As Cleopatra this. But, sir, forgive me;

Since my becomings kill me when they do not Eye well to you. Your honour calls you hence;

Therefore be deaf to my unpitied folly,

And all the gods go with you! Upon your sword

Sit laurel victory, and smooth success

Be strew'd before your feet!

ANTONY Let us go. Come.

Our separation so abides and flies

That thou, residing here, goes yet with me, And I, hence fleeting, here remain with thee.

Away! [Exeunt.

Either,

(b) How far do you agree with the view that "within Antony and Cleopatra, Shakespeare presents women struggling to succeed in a patriarchal society"? [48]

(c) "A play about political and romantic betrayal." Explore Shakespeare's presentation of the theme of betrayal in Antony and Cleopatra in the light of this view. [48]

King Lear

2. (a) By focusing closely on the linguistic and literary techniques used, explore how Shakespeare creates sympathy for Gloucester in this extract from Act 4, Scene 1. [24]

GLOUCESTER I have no way, and therefore want no eyes;

I stumbled when I saw: full oft 'tis seen Our means secure us, and our mere defects Prove our commodities. O dear son Edgar, The food of thy abused father's wrath! Might I but live to see thee in my touch, I'd say I had eyes again! How now! Who's there?

EDGAR [Aside] O gods! Who is't can say 'I am at the worst'?

I am worse than e'er I was.

OLD MAN 'Tis poor mad Tom.

OLD MAN

EDGAR [Aside] And worse I may be yet. The worst is not

So long as we can say 'This is the worst'.

OLD MAN Fellow, where goest?

GLOUCESTER Is it a beggar-man?

OLD MAN Madman and beggar too.

GLOUCESTER He has some reason, else he could not beg.

I' th' last night's storm I such a fellow saw; Which made me think a man a worm. My son Came then into my mind; and yet my mind

Was then scarce friends with him. I have heard more since.

As flies to wanton boys are we to th' gods –

They kill us for their sport.

EDGAR [Aside] How should this be?

Bad is the trade that must play fool to sorrow, Ang'ring itself and others. – Bless thee, master!

GLOUCESTER Is that the naked fellow?

OLD MAN Ay, my lord.

OLD WAN Ay, Hy lord.

GLOUCESTER Then, prithee, get thee away. If for my sake,

Thou wilt o'ertake us hence a mile or twain I' th' way toward Dover, do it for ancient love; And bring some covering for this naked soul,

Which I'll entreat to lead me.

OLD MAN Alack, sir, he is mad.

GLOUCESTER 'Tis the times' plague when madmen lead the blind.

Do as I bid thee, or rather do thy pleasure;

Above the rest, be gone.

OLD MAN I'll bring him the best 'parel that I have,

Come on't what will. [Exit.

GLOUCESTER Sirrah, naked fellow!

EDGAR Poor Tom's a-cold. [Aside] I cannot daub it further.

GLOUCESTER Come hither, fellow.

EDGAR [Aside] And yet I must. – Bless thy sweet eyes, they bleed.

GLOUCESTER Know'st thou the way to Dover?

EDGAR Both stile and gate, horse-way and footpath. Poor Tom hath been scar'd out of his good wits. Bless thee, good man's son, from the foul fiend! Five fiends have been in poor Tom at once: of lust, as Obidicut; Hobbididence, prince of dumbness; Mahu, of stealing; Modo, of murder; Flibbertigibbet, of mopping and mowing, who since possesses chambermaids and waiting-women. So, bless thee, master!

GLOUCESTER Here, take this purse, thou whom the heavens' plagues

Have humbled to all strokes. That I am wretched Makes thee the happier. Heavens, deal so still! Let the superfluous and lust-dieted man That slaves your ordinance, that will not see Because he does not feel, feel your power quickly;

So distribution should undo excess,

And each man have enough. Dost thou know Dover?

EDGAR Ay, master.

GLOUCESTER There is a cliff whose high and bending head

Looks fearfully in the confined deep: Bring me but to the very brim of it And I'll repair the misery thou dost bear

With something rich about me. From that place

I shall no leading need.

EDGAR Give me thy arm;

Poor Tom shall lead thee. [Exeunt.

(c) "The play depicts a world that seems terribly unjust." Explore Shakespeare's presentation of the theme of injustice in King Lear. [48]

Much Ado About Nothing

By focusing closely on the linguistic and literary techniques used, explore how Shakespeare 3. presents the characters and attitudes of Don John and Borachio in Act 2, Scene 2. [24]

Enter DON JOHN and BORACHIO.

DON JOHN It is so: the Count Claudio shall marry the daughter of Leonato.

BORACHIO Yea, my lord, but I can cross it.

DON JOHN Any bar, any cross, any impediment will be med'cinable to me. I am sick in displeasure to him: and whatsoever comes athwart his affection ranges evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?

BORACHIO Not honestly, my lord; but so covertly that no dishonesty shall appear in me.

DON JOHN Show me briefly how.

BORACHIO I think I told your lordship a year since how much I am in the favour of Margaret, the waiting gentlewoman to Hero.

DON JOHN I remember.

BORACHIO I can at any unseasonable instant of the night appoint her to look out at her lady's chamber window.

DON JOHN What life is in that, to be the death of this marriage?

BORACHIO The poison of that lies in you to temper. Go you to the Prince your brother; spare not to tell him that he hath wronged his honour in marrying the renowned Claudio – whose estimation do you mightily hold up

- to a contaminated stale, such a one as Hero.

DON JOHN What proof shall I make of that?

BORACHIO Proof enough to misuse the Prince, to vex Claudio, to undo Hero, and kill Leonato. Look you for any other issue?

DON JOHN Only to despite them I will endeavour anything.

BORACHIO Go, then; find me a meet hour to draw Don Pedro and the Count Claudio alone; tell them that you know that Hero loves me; intend a kind of zeal both to the Prince and Claudio - as in love of your brother's honour, who hath made this match, and his friend's reputation, who is thus like to be cozen'd with the semblance of a maid - that you have discover'd thus. They will scarcely believe this without trial; offer them instances; which shall bear no less likelihood than to see me at her chamber window; hear me call Margaret Hero; hear Margaret term me Borachio; and bring them to see this the very night before the intended wedding – for in the meantime I will so fashion the matter that Hero shall be absent and there shall appear such seeming truth of Hero's disloyalty that jealousy shall be call'd assurance, and all the preparation overthrown.

DON JOHN Grow this to what adverse issue it can, I will put it in practice. Be cunning in the working this, and thy fee is a thousand ducats.

BORACHIO Be you constant in the accusation, and my cunning shall not shame me.

DON JOHN I will presently go learn their day of marriage.

[Exeunt.

Othello

4. (a) By focusing closely on the linguistic and literary techniques used, explore Shakespeare's presentation of lago in this extract from Act 2, Scene 1. [24]

IAGO Blest fig's end! The wine she drinks is made of grapes.

If she had been blest, she would never have lov'd the Moor. Blest pudding! Didst thou not see her paddle with the palm of his hand? Didst not mark that?

RODERIGO Yes, that I did; but that was but courtesy.

IAGO Lechery, by this hand; an index and obscure prologue to the history of lust and foul thoughts. They met so near with their lips that their breaths embrac'd together. Villainous thoughts, Roderigo! When these mutualities so marshal the way, hard at hand comes the master and main exercise, th' incorporate conclusion. Pish! But, sir, be you rul'd by me; I have brought you from Venice. Watch you to-night; for your command, I'll lay't upon you. Cassio knows you not; I'll not be far from you. Do you find some occasion to anger Cassio, either by speaking too loud, or tainting his discipline, or from what other course you please, which the time shall more favourably minister.

RODERIGO Well.

IAGO Sir, he's rash, and very sudden in choler, and haply with his truncheon may strike at you; provoke him that he may; for even out of that will I cause these of Cyprus to mutiny, whose qualification shall come into no true taste again but by the displanting of Cassio. So shall you have a shorter journey to your desires by the means I shall then have to prefer them; and the impediment most profitably remov'd, without the which there were no expectation of our prosperity.

RODERIGO I will do this, if you can bring it to any opportunity.

IAGO I warrant thee. Meet me by and by at the citadel: I must fetch his necessaries ashore. Farewell.

RODERIGO Adieu. [Exit.

IAGO That Cassio loves her, I do well believe it;

That she loves him, 'tis apt and of great credit. The Moor, howbeit that I endure him not, Is of a constant, loving, noble nature; And I dare think he'll prove to Desdemona A most dear husband. Now I do love her too; Not out of absolute lust, though per-adventure

I stand accountant for as great a sin, But partly led to diet my revenge, For that I do suspect the lustful Moor

Hath leap'd into my seat; the thought whereof Doth like a poisonous mineral gnaw my inwards;

And nothing can nor shall content my soul Till I am even'd with him, wife for wife; Or failing so, yet that I put the Moor At least into a jealousy so strong

That judgment cannot cure. Which thing to do, If this poor trash of Venice, whom I trash

For his quick hunting, stand the putting on, I'll have our Michael Cassio on the hip,
Abuse him to the Moor in the rank garb —
For I fear Cassio with my night-cap too;
Make the Moor thank me, love me, and reward me,
For making him egregiously an ass,
And practising upon his peace and quiet
Even to madness. 'Tis here, but yet confus'd:
Knavery's plain face is never seen till us'd.

[Exit.

The Tempest

5. (a) By focusing closely on the linguistic and literary techniques used, explore how Shakespeare presents the relationship between Miranda and Ferdinand in this extract from Act 3, Scene 1.

MIRANDA Alas, now; pray you,

Work not so hard; I would the lightning had Burnt up those logs that you are enjoin'd to pile. Pray, set it down and rest you; when this burns, 'Twill weep for having wearied you. My father Is hard at study; pray, now, rest yourself;

He's safe for these three hours.

FERDINAND O most dear mistress,

The sun will set before I shall discharge

What I must strive to do.

MIRANDA If you'll sit down,

I'll bear your logs the while; pray give me that;

I'll carry it to the pile.

FERDINAND No, precious creature;

I had rather crack my sinews, break my back, Than you should such dishonour undergo,

While I sit lazy by.

MIRANDA It would become me

As well as it does you; and I should do it With much more ease; for my good will is to it,

And yours it is against.

PROSPERO [Aside] Poor worm, thou art infected!

This visitation shows it.

MIRANDA You look wearily.

FERDINAND No, noble mistress; 'tis fresh morning with me

When you are by at night. I do beseech you, Chiefly that I might set it in my prayers,

What is your name?

MIRANDA Miranda – O my father,

I have broke your hest to say so!

FERDINAND Admir'd Miranda!

Indeed the top of admiration; worth

What's dearest to the world! Full many a lady I have ey'd with best regard; and many a time Th' harmony of their tongues hath into bondage Brought my too diligent ear; for several virtues

Have I lik'd several women, never any With so full soul, but some defect in her Did quarrel with the noblest grace she ow'd,

And put it to the foil; but you, O you, So perfect and so peerless, are created

Of every creature's best!

MIRANDA I do not know

One of my sex; no woman's face remember, Save, from my glass, mine own; nor have I seen More that I may call men than you, good friend, And my dear father. How features are abroad,

I am skilless of; but, by my modesty,
The jewel in my dower, I would not wish
Any companion in the world but you;
Nor can imagination form a shape,
Besides yourself, to like of. But I prattle

Something too wildly, and my father's precepts

I therein do forget.

FERDINAND I am, in my condition,

A prince, Miranda; I do think, a king -

I would not so! - and would no more endure

This wooden slavery than to suffer

The flesh-fly blow my mouth. Hear my soul speak:

The very instant that I saw you, did My heart fly to your service; there resides To make me slave to it; and for your sake

Am I this patient log-man.

MIRANDA Do you love me?

FERDINAND O heaven, O earth, bear witness to this sound,

And crown what I profess with kind event,

If I speak true! If hollowly, invert What best is boded me to mischief! I, Beyond all limit of what else i' th' world,

Do love, prize, honour you.

MIRANDA I am a fool

To weep at what I am glad of.
